Indigenous Connections

Andrew is an Indigenous man who grew up in Katherine, NT. He has been able to trace his family history to part of the Djerimanga country, also known as Wulna. This country consists of 1,200 square miles on the coastal plain where the Adelaide River debouches into the Timor Sea. We are committed to a positive future for the Aboriginal community.

The team share a passion for training and mentoring Indigenous people and want to provide opportunities and guidance to them, so they too can feel proud to be a contributing and valued member of the community. We undertake partnerships with training organisations that offer students who have completed the certificate in constructions, work placements alongside our tradesmen to encourage and support their career goals. Students who display enthusiasm, reliability and genuine interest in the Construction Industry are able to potentially gain a Carpentry Apprenticeships with CollNT.
